

Fledgling's Corner

by Judy Jennings

FLEDGLING'S CORNER – FOR DAD TOO!

In fact, the whole family can get in on this fun project for patio, garden, or wherever.

On the next outing to the mountains or beach, look for an interesting, gnarly piece of downed wood or driftwood. Something that is portable. At home chisel out or drill out a hollow area that can be filled with potting soil. The log then becomes a container for one or more plants depending on its size.

A ceramic bird made by the fledgling would add the finishing touch to this attractive patio piece. If you're lucky, you might even find a log with a hollow area in it already, thereby providing a more natural look.

This project will lead to a fun day's adventure even if you don't find that perfect piece of wood.
